

forensic accounting...

Forensic accounting is the integration of accounting, information technology and investigation skills to enable lawyers, insurance companies and other clients to resolve disputes or anticipated disputes. It provides expert evidence in the litigation process.

The Dains Forensic Team provides expert advice and assistance in both Commercial Disputes and Personal Actions.

Involving an experienced professional at an early stage can improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the litigation process. We use our analytical skills and our understanding of financial matters to identify key issues. We will then produce a well researched, clearly presented and objective report on which the person responsible for its preparation will ultimately provide evidence in court, if required.

We are able to assist with...

- Business interruption claims
- Loss of profits claim
- Calculation of lost profits
- Fraud and financial irregularities
- Investigation of fraud and calculation of losses for use in royalty or copyright disputes
- Matrimonial disputes
- Business valuation disputes
- Assessment of business worth
