

Challenge Dains to help your business...

Strategic Thinking...

Successful businesses are dependent on high quality people taking good quality decisions. Taking time to work on the business rather than in the business is key to the success of a SME. Why not challenge Dains to develop your strategic thinking?

Our review will enable you to:

- Address any key areas which require discussion
- Establish where the business is now, where the business wants to get to and how you are going to get there
- Make best use of management accounts information and systems
- Understand and develop corporate structures
- Make high quality investment decisions

Good quality Directors often make the difference between success and failure. Through a series of short modules Dains can support your business, helping you to get the most from your top people.

For a free initial consultation call your local office or email challenge@dains.com

Challenge Dains to help you with...

Financial Management • Director Development • Strategic Thinking
Performance Improvement • Succession Planning

much more than chartered accountants...